Helpful Hints for the Ski Trail: Every sport has its own rules and codes of conduct. Cross Country skiing is no exception. Here are a few rules established by the International Ski Federation.

RESPECT OTHERS: Ski so you don't endanger or offend others.

OBEY SIGNS: Respect trail marking signs. Ski only in marked direction on one-way trails

SKI RIGHT: Ski on the right-hand side if there's more than one track on a trail. Groups should ski single file on the right of a trail.

MEETING: Keep to the right when meeting skiers. On hills, skiers skiing downhill have the right of way over those skiing up hill.

POLES IN: Keep your poles close to your body whenever near another skier.

KEEP TRAILS CLEAR: If you stop, get out of the track. If you fall, get up and out of the track quickly.

WATCH YOUR SPEED: Suit your skiing speed to your personal ability, the terrain, visibility and number of skiers nearby, especially on downhills. Keep a safe distance from skiers ahead. As a last resort, fall intentionally if you cannot otherwise avoid a collision.

ACCIDENTS: At the scene of an accident, identify yourself, whether involved in the accident or not. Give aid if you can.
